CAMBRIDGE HIGH AND LATIN SCHOOL

Dedication

We dedicate this book to the teachers of Cambridge High and Latin in appreciation for their instruction and guidance. The work of teachers is two-fold. They are not only instructors who open the realms of knowledge to us, but also friends who help us encounter the trials and joys of life and prepare for the day when we shall take an active part in the affairs of the world.

LUCIA TOSCANO.

The graduating class of 1946 offers its heartfelt gratitude and sincere thanks to our headmaster, Mr. Downey. His sage counsel and close acquaintance have been invaluable to us these past four years.

JOHN H. WINN.

Prologue

Time has swiftly added four significant years to its records. It has sped us ever onward toward our various destinations, stopping prudently for learning, happiness, and friendship. Our train has reached only a changing point on the tracks of life and a thousand other trains wait impatiently to bear us farther. As our high school years are individually epoch making, this year book serves reminiscence and reference.

Class Poem 1946

To study all the lore that men may know,
 Those musty volumes of the ancient days,
When there the great god Pan began to blow
 With doubtful breath the merry sylvan lays
Upon the lonely reeds that often grow
 In shaded water near cool hidden ways,
To learn with thoughtful care a love of life,
For years has been our wish, in spite of strife.

For what the future holds for us remains,
 Behind the dim and misty veil of time,
A riddle which the oracle maintains
 Includes for us a happy, pleasant clime,
As well as dismal place where dreary rains
 Bring forth a life of fear and hope sublime.
For if our trust can take us unafraid,
The time to come may we face undismayed.

To free a hungry world from gnawing fear
 And help the earth rebuild a saner goal,
A link of friendship that's without a peer,
 To guide the homeless then will be our role
And from the tortured skies the clouds to clear,
 That war again may never take its toll.
Then shall we seek what hope for life is left,
And trust that God will leave us not bereft.

SYLVIA DUNCAN HALL.

Class Song - 1946

Music — MAUDELINE BECKLES Lyrics — THEODORA DOWNS

In thought and spirit always grateful,
In word and deed forever true
We pledge to be, our Alma Mater,
As now our praise to you
Resounds like echoes never dying
Through halls and rooms we knew.
We'll voices raise in heartfelt praise
This day to you.

The fleeting days have quickly vanished
Like wind-tossed racing clouds on high
And now the time has come for parting,
For breaking one last tie.
But loyalty and our devotion
Will not be lost to view.
We'll voices raise in heartfelt praise
This day to you.

CAMBRIDGE HIGH & LATIN SCHOOL

There was a time, long, long ago when we did not live; we merely existed. We existed for the condescension and confusing directions of our betters, the upperclassmen. We existed for our green sacks full of innumerable volumes, almost out-weighting our pitiful work-wracked freshmen bodies. We discovered in gym class that try as we might, we could not distinguish our left from our right foot. We learned to our utter dismay that the fanciful little compositions we wrote in grammar school would have to grow up a great deal before they could be labeled themes in our new house of learning. Many of us discovered the usefulness of the public library for the first time when confronted with a book review assignment. A few (a trifle advanced for our age) took advantage of a headache on test days, employing the tricks of those older than we.

In spite of the fact that in most everyone's eyes we were immature goslings, we as freshmen, managed to behave in a different manner toward World War II. Our fathers, brothers, uncles, and friends were having a none too pleasant time in places of indescribable horror and we were determined to do something to help, something to make us feel that we were actually part of "we the people of the United States."

We prayed. We prayed each day of the war. Our war stamps and bonds helped to finance the war. First Aid classes gave us practice and experience which might at any time prove necessary in case of an accident. We had an epidemic of knitting; notes were compared on how properly to fold surgical dressings. All during the war we wrote what we hoped were cheering, newsy letters to friends and relatives.

Gradually, we freshmen became familiar with the labyrinth of corridors of the old and new buildings. Our teachers no longer seemed austere; they were actually human! Our classmates were no longer strangers; we were all friends. We were all growing up together until we reached the "all knowing" age of sophomores.

Our silent days were over. Somehow or other we had survived our embryonic "fresh" stage and were now ready to prove to ourselves and to the whole school that we were not infants. We were mature sophomores, almost upperclassmen! What if we were only a little higher than the stage of mere existence? At least the world would know we were there! We banged our lockers louder than anyone else; we collided with more people than anyone else in our mad rushes to the lunch-room; we screamed louder than anyone else at the Rindge vs. Latin football game.

Yet we had our serious side. We still continued our war activities. When D Day came, we besought God to spare as many men as He could and to bring the whole chaos to a speedy end.

We argued the merits of the two esteemed gentlemen, the Messrs. Crosby and Sinatra, with the vigor of Wheaties eaters. We conquered Gaul with Caesar, discovered the intricacies of bookkeeping, were baffled by perpendiculars and hypotenuses. We could gaze upon a senior almost without quavering, pass a junior with but a fleeting glance, and bestow on a freshman an expert withering look. Finally we made shore safe and sound as juniors.

Our goal was reached. No longer should we have to struggle to attain recognition. We were upperclassmen!

After we got used to our new dignity, some of us who were politically minded, began our campaigns for class officers. We were asked to sign so many candidate sheets that in desperation we ducked under our desks whenever someone approached us waving a long, white slip of paper. However, on election day we made John Paredes, president, William Coveney, vice-president, Patricia Foley, secretary, and Joseph Murphy, treasurer. A prom committee was chosen at the same time and it worked feverishly to make our Junior Prom a magnificent success.

In our third year at C.H.L.S. the language clubs were reorganized and the revival of Talent Night proved to be a brilliant idea. We all enjoyed the antics of our fellow students from the dancing horse act to the Gay Nineties Review. When the seniors left the first week in June, we realized we were the uppermost upperclassmen and longed (?) for September to come so that we might begin our honored roles as seniors.

Before we assumed that dignity, ours was the privilege of thanking God for the surrender of Germany, and of Japan. We pray now that we may establish a true and lasting peace.

Our last year was a hectic, happy, busy one! We got right down to business and reelected John Paredes and William Coveney as president and vice-president respectively. Our secretary was Joan FitzPatrick and our treasurer, Barbara Goepper. Soon after elections, the ring committee got to work and before long we were trying on rings and trying to decide on the onyx or ruby stone. We were measured for caps and gowns in an amazingly quick fashion. We smoothed our curly locks, smiled winsomely, and posed for our class pictures. Many of us attended seventh periods galore in preparation for our terrifying college boards. Arrangements for our big social event, the senior reception, were begun.

This same year a youth council was organized which immediately formulated plans for a canteen, called the Under 21 Club. The sparkling, enjoyable Talent Night program provided the necessary funds for the club and a fun-laden evening for the audience.

The general feeling was that there was so much to do and so little time left to do it. Speed was the key work for our senior year. Before we knew it our life at C.H.L.S. was over. We looked back upon our four years there, as a child after a painless inoculation looks at the doctor who had promised the doubting fellow that "it wouldn't hurt a bit." We had to admit it hadn't hurt a bit. We rather enjoyed it!

CLASS PROPHECY

CAMBRIDGE HIGH & LATIN SCHOOL

Good evening, ladies and gentlemen, this is your Broadway commentator, Habriel Geater, broadcasting this evening from the Starlight roof of the Waldorf Astoria where the reunion of the class of '46 of the Cambridge High and Latin School is being held. Chief Justice Daniel Nyman, Catherine Curtiss, editor of the New York Times, screen stars Betty Grove and Bob Twoomey, and Dallas Burrows, the producer of the smash Broadway hit, Pick-a-Card, are just a few of the outstanding members of this class.

Congratulations to the chairman of tonight's program, Bill Coveney, and his associates, Carmen Martin, Charlotte Johnson, Barbara Scanlon, and Eleanor Lepore. A great deal of the success of this reunion is due to Helen Collins, Alice Colantuono, Edna Sargent, Barbara Holland and Teresa Daly, who capably handled all the secretarial work.

The Towers, recently bought by that up and coming capitalist John Winn, Esq., was remodeled by Anne Rosie, world-famed architect. The interior decorating was done by Barbara Graff, Thelma Cummings, Eleanor Sullivan, and Ruth Barnes. The Towers beauty salon is under the management of Helen Robichaud, Charlotte Freeman, Ann Gent, Alfreda Zeles, and Arlene Zakszewski.

The reception committee composed of Margo Downey, head-mistress of Cambridge High and Latin, and some of its faculty is now gathering in the foyer. Ann Sullivan represents the history department, Deirdre O'Brien the Spanish department, Catherine Marathas the Latin Department, Helen Karchmajeski the German, and Marie Callahan biology. Dave Sheehan, freshman master, Helen Fougere, geometry teacher, and Babe Kelley, Head of the English department, are also among this group. School committeewomen, Kate and Jean Sullivan, Bette Finucane, Regina Tierney, and Betty Nickerson, principals of Cambridge grammar schools, are doing a fine job in the receiving line.

We are honored tonight by the presence of Commanders Joe Murphy, Lincoln Balcom, and John Pitingolo, and by Colonels Tony Mesore and Billy Mottla have come up from West Point for the occasion. Dorothy Dooley, ambassador to Brazil, and Jacqueline Boscher, ambassador to France, are here with our Syrian ambassador, Alfred Saidnawey. The Hub papers are well represented by Sonny Curcio and Billy Kokinakis, sport editors of the Herald, and Doug Crockett, editor of the American.

Committee members Tom Harney and Larry Donnelly, co-owners of the Uni, are ushering in Peggy Treanor, Mary Hayes, Priscilla Milley, and Anna Tracy.

On my right, Frieda Alexander, Veronica Aslanian, and Dorothy Azadian, Jackson Graduates, are discussing the all important problem "The Women's Place in the World of Today" with Agnes Keosian and Helen Culolias, who are on the board of admissions at Radcliffe. With them is Professor Sylvia Duncan Hall who has come from England where she is giving a series of lectures on French art and literature.

Joanne and Jeanne Rose, editors of R. Hogan's Vogue, have just entered wearing two of their latest creations. Publicity manager, Dick Harrington, has informed me that the next issue will feature the latest Spring fashions modeled by Betty Dawe, Anna Cash, Eleanor Wallace and Anne Heffernan. Lydia Spencer and Barbara Karbaum, well-known columnists, will have feature articles on the outstanding women in the sports world. These write-ups will feature Peggy Dinan, a player on the Women's International softball team, Darlene Voss, bowling champion, and the entire women's All American Basketball team, starring Deedee Nevins, Mary Hildebrand, Lucille and Mabel Grimm, Jean Massé, Chris Kokinakis, and Lorraine Roffer. The larger part of this issue will be devoted to Spring hats, which will be modelled by Lillian Moniz, Mary Panzer, Tessie Hawkes, and Edna Newell, who have been chosen by the leading hair stylists of America,

CAMBRIDGE HIGH & LATIN SCHOOL

Joe Cabral and Charles Comfort, to set the hair fashions for the coming year. Helen Mahfuz and Alice Harris, Vogue short story writers, have written an entertaining article on the evolution of the hat, illustrated by Caryl Hayes and Jane Conquest. All Vogue creations, a great many of which have been designed by Teresa Cullen and Betty Magnuson, can be found at Mary Kenealy's exclusive dress shop on Fifth Avenue. Watch for Jeanne Gordon's clever commercials all through Vogue.

Maestro Joe DeFeo is now raising his baton. His all-girl orchestra, starring June Carlson and Ruth Weisman, is playing Maudeline Beckles' Concerto in G Minor. Dr. Jean Foley and Dr. Vasken Toomajinian have just entered from the E. Wadden Hospital with some of their staff, Geraldine Dansereau, superintendent of nurses, Alice Seelinger and Jewell Ward, Chief dietitians, and Jean Walsh and Pat Crowley, head nurses.

Jackie Frongello, Peggy Mowatt, and Helen Kapchus, secretaries from the Goldberg Brothers law firm, are chatting with Mayanne Jebali, Kathy Korenthall, and Mary Wright, secretaries of the Burke, Rennie, and Good law firm located at 46 State Street. The topic of their conversation is District Attorney Paul Burke whose intensive research on the causes of crime has given Massachusetts the lowest crime rating in its history.

Herbie Wasserman and Peter Gomatos, members of the Harvard Faculty, are seated at a center table with Fred Ward, well-known scientist and Margaret Coleman and Theresa Fitzgerald, math professors at Radcliffe. Earle Rosenberg, chairman of the American Dental Society, David Most, winner of the Nobel Prize for the discovery of plutonium, the remarkable cure for T. B., and Melvin Zax, business tycoon have just joined the group.

Rumor has it that Basilla Neilan, chairman of the American Red Cross, will be here before the evening is over. She is flying in from Japan where she and Jimmy Fitzgerald have been lecturing on Japan's "Place in the New World." Edna Jones, Marie Smith, Claire Culhane, and Mary Miles are here from the European branch of the Red Cross.

Jack Kaufman, cartoonist for Paredes' Esquire is seated next to me, sketching that popular radio comedian, Janice Banks, as she introduces the incomparable Mary Reilly and Claire Rodgers, who have made millions on Broadway with their skit, "Girls will be Girls." Edna Fairbairn is their publicity agent. Last night Jack covered the Costa Ice Follies where Polly MacGillvray and Sara Talarico were the stars.

Joyce Tessmer is one of the charming vocalists on tonight's program which is under the direction of Rose Garoian, Marion Sullivan, Pat Francis and Pat Foley. She is seated at the table in the far corner of the room with Sandra Bayliss, Marguerite Bailey, Helen Stone, and Lorraine Palmisano. Esther Barr, a well-known radio singer, will be here later with her twin sister, Irene.

The Sargent Faculty has just arrived and Honey Boudreau and Rose Callahan are welcoming president Barbara Goepper, Marjorie Babcock, Doris Monroe, Betty Joaquim and Mary Fraser. Carol Carlow, Jane Parsons, and Marie Leary, members of the Lesley College faculty, drove in with them.

Senators Noreen Buckley and Joan Fitzpatrick and Representatives Gene Sullivan and Edward Krohn are making their way with Dr. Lucia Toscano toward John McCarthy, president of the New England Telephone Company and his assistant, Louise Gruhn. Eleanor Davis and Lillian Crowley are John's private secretaries.

Rosemary Botelho, Belle Landry, and Phyllis King have just commented on this evening's decorations. All the credit goes to Tom Kelly, Donald Hughes, Larry Linehan, Mildred Zimmerman, and Eleanor Haskins.

The lights are dimming for the first number on this program, a vocal by Jerry Costa and Mary Gonzalves accompanied by Antoinette Ricci on her guitar.

Eleanor Checchi, Antoinette Centrella, Eleanor Busby, Constance Carpenito, and Grace Bourne are entering as full of fun as ever. Following them are Polly Albano and Tola Kiriagis, models for Macy's which is now under the management of Robert Cox and John Nash.

At the sportsmen's table, Ray McCarron and Hugh Graham, Bruin aces, and Jimmy Lang, shot putter who has just returned from the Olympics, are talking with Joe Canney and Frank Canina, business managers for the Red Sox.

Alice Blue, Life photographer, is snapping pictures for Lily Root's article on the reunion, which will appear in next week's issue. Charlotte DeMonde, Lillian Days, and Phyllis Boffitto have just been photographed at their table with Gloria Carbone, Sandra Bonanno, Valda Johnson and Janet Andelman.

Messages of congratulation have been coming in all night. Wanda Iwanski, Mary Enos, Edith Johnson, and Jennie Kibit, confidential secretaries in the White House, send their best wishes for a successful evening. The latest telegrams have come from Barbara Sullivan, Helen Wiggs, Lillian Stack, and Barbara Powers. Professors Jacqueline Crawford, Muriel Hill and brother, Benjamin, send their regrets. Their work at Wilberforce University has made it impossible for them to be here.

South African explorers, Edgar Mohn, Jimmy Agnetta, and Joe Healy are relating their latest experiences to Joe Paiva, John Landrigan, George Waldron, and Bob O'Leary.

The lights are dimming again and Mary Walsh steps up to the microphone to sing Arlene Marlin's latest song with lyrics by Phyllis Reilly.

Later in the evening, John Hayford and Earle Hagstrom will bring some of the prominent members of the class before the mike. Dr. Marshall Goldberg, famous tree surgeon, Helen Scannell, author of the latest best seller "Her feller's a speller," and Kenny Lyons and Jimmy Linnehan, America's leading sport authorities are sure to be called upon.

The Boston department stores are well represented. Thelma Murray and Mary Winslow, buyers for Susan Hoban's high school shop, and Barbara Brown and Roberta Eagan, buyers for the Sargent Co-op, are discussing teen-age fashions with Betsy McKinley and Teddy Downs, the editors of Seventeen. Cliff Herman Cover girls, Joan Howard, Lois Hanlon and Freddie Sherman, who have revolutionized the fashion world, will be on the cover of H. Graham's Bazaar this month.

Ina Couture, Eleanor Clarke, Catherine Dambrosio, and Mary DerBogoshian are trying to interest Francis Desmond, owner of Desmond Pharmacy, in their latest concoction, a hair barrette which curls as it combs. With Doris Healy and Alice Vasil demonstrating the curler-comb, Desmond is sure to fall.

Sumner Kaplan and Earle Levine, co-owners of the Kaplan-Levine Motor Industries, are here with their private secretaries, Hazel Hatfield, Georgia Anestis and Dot Ryan. Dr. Tom Sullivan, the company's physician, is also at their table.

That applause, ladies and gentlemen, is for Paul McCarron, Roy Cooper, and Angus Hogg who are wheeling in a beautiful white frosted cake made by Dot Powell, Cynthia Reed, Grace Walsted, and Audrey Moore. This cake is a four-foot miniature of C.H.L.S. and has nine hundred and forty-six candles on it. Sorry but our broadcasting time is over. We leave the class of '46 as Ginny Braithwaite, our old favorite, sings the first notes of "Remember When." Having been successful in the past, I am sure that this class will continue to play a prominent part in world affairs.

Although the echo of guns has long since died away, the Junior Red Cross, under the sponsorship of Miss Alice A. Ward, is still busy helping our servicemen and the peoples of war-ravaged countries.

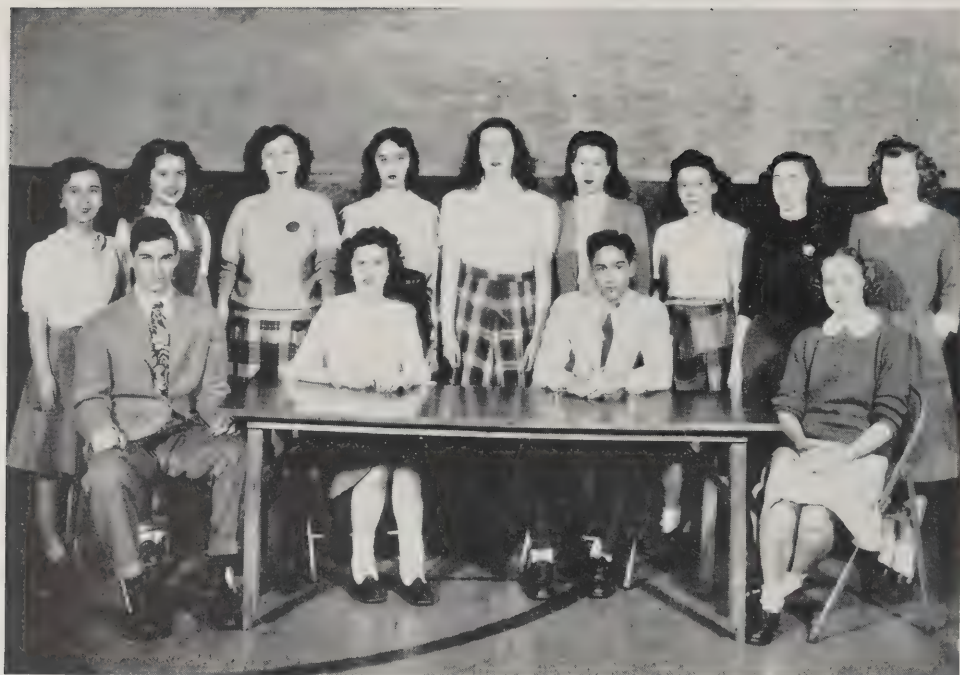

The school continued its good record of previous years and attained one hundred percent enrollment. The activities have been many and varied. Pupils from the art classes painted posters and the sewing classes worked on utility bags. Articles of practical value such as cigarettes, shaving cream, soap, joke books, combs and mirrors, stationery and toothpaste were contributed for the servicemen's kits. Volunteer work was done at the telephone switchboard at the Red Cross Headquarters. Volunteers sorted material and helped wrap Christmas packages at a Sunday afternoon gathering in American Legion Hall. Our special Christmas project was a drive for coloring books, crayons, and comics for children in the local hospitals. Despite the stormy weather, every hospital in the city was visited just before Christmas and packages of Christmas cheer were left for the hospitalized children.

Appreciation of the work of the Junior Red Cross organization was voiced in a hearty letter of commendation from Red Cross Headquarters.

The problems of readjustment to peacetime conditions bring new calls for service; the junior members are happy to pledge their continued aid in humanity's cause.

In this our first year of peace the G.A.A. has experienced one of its most successful years. From the primary event, the initiation of the Freshmen, to the annual picnic at Kendal Green, the curriculum of the oldest organization in the school was overflowing with fun and enthusiasm for one and all. The highlight of these outstanding events was the G.A.A. Formal held at the Hotel Commander on January 11. On a par with this memorable occasion was the springtime informal on May 17. The Girl-Boy Dance which has been held traditionally since the beginning of the G.A.A. added another wonderful time for the members of the association.

We were sorry to lose our Secretary, Betty Anne Grove, but she was ably replaced by energetic Peggy Kief.

We, of the graduating class, wish to express our appreciation of Miss Alice Brown, our advisor, for her capable assistance in solving many difficult problems.

K. B. REPORT

Another year of work and play is drawing to a close but it is one long to be remembered. On November the second, the installation of new members was held. This year, fourteen seniors and ten juniors were admitted, swelling the number of girls in the club to thirty-six. Marie Callahan, a home student who has been an honor pupil for four years, was made an honorary member of the club. In the course of the year, groups of girls went to visit Marie at her home as often as possible.

Following the Christmas vacation, each girl took part in planning and preparing for the Valentine Formal which was held on February the fifteenth. The ballroom at the Hotel Commander was beautifully decorated by a committee headed by Carolyn Townsend. The dance was a great success; everyone turned out and had a grand time.

Now with the future bringing a tea for the faculty, a reception to the K. B. Alumnae, a dinner and a picnic for the members, and a tea to be held at the President's home for the installation of new officers for next year, we are preparing once more to bring to a close the doings of our club. The President, Basilla Neilan, the other girls, and I thank Miss McElroy and Miss Young, our faculty advisors, for their helpful guidance through a most enjoyable year.

The members of the K. B. of 1946 extend to the K. B. of coming years, our heartiest wishes for as much joy and success as we have had.

ELEANOR WADDEN,
Secretary.

DRAMATIC CLUB OFFICERS

Rear Row: Janice Banks, Caire Rodgers, David Walsh, Basilla Neilan, Mary Reilly.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB

This year the activities of the Dramatic Club have been many, with emphasis on variety. We started the year with a formal dance at the Hotel Commander, the opening formal of the season, which proved to be our first success.

One of the three main dramatic events of the year was the initial showing of "Priscilla's Technique," a fast-moving, one-act war bond play which was performed in the Cleveland Auditorium and at New Bedford High School under the auspices of the War Department. Following this, another bond play, "Only Three-Seventy Five," was put on before the schools and Chambers of Commerce of twelve different cities and towns in Massachusetts. In many cases it was this performance that caused the bond sales of the schools to reach their quota.

The joy and solemnity of the Christmas Season was not forgotten however, as the club presented the annual Christmas Tableaux, which, with the invaluable co-operation and assistance of Miss Wait and the Choral Group, is rapidly becoming a beloved tradition of the school. Also on the program for the Yuletide was the annual Christmas Party, held this year under the snow clad roof of the Cambridge Boat Club. Notable at this festive occasion was the remarkable entertainment which has been typical of the club this year.

All of these events were made possible under the guidance of Miss Hartigan, and the club wishes to thank her for giving so freely of her time and services.

For the April fourth meeting, Mr. Elliott Duvey, Director of the Tributary Theatre, consented to give a talk on the history of the American Theatre. John Murray, one of our freshman members, has an unusual miniature stage which is five feet tall, and has every accessory used in the average stage, including the electric lighting, which was used by Mr. Duvey in his talk.

On April eleventh two scenes from "Macbeth," were presented together with a lecture with slides on this famous Shakesperean Play. This event has a talented cast, and gave a noteworthy performance.

LITERARY CLUB

Top Row: Veronica Aslanian, Frieda Alexander, Jean Warnock, Sylvia Hall, Dorothy Azadian, Alice Blue, Helen Culolias, Mary Herlihy, Janice Banks, Sandra Bayliss, Marguerite Bailey.

First Row: Sandra Bonanno, Rose Marie Lucente, Lily Root, Theodora Downs, Alice Seelinger, Helen Stone, Ursula Van Zarsk.

THE LITERARY CLUB

Three years ago the Literary Club was organized by an energetic group of sophomores. Since then, there have been mostly members of that sophomore class in our ranks. Under the supervision of Miss Butler, our faculty adviser for the past two years, we have enjoyed some extremely interesting meetings and activities. This last year our officers were: Theodora Downs, '46, president; Lily Root, '46, treasurer; Alice Seelinger, '46, secretary.

Our year commenced by a trip to the Wayside Inn, where in an atmosphere of Colonial times, we enjoyed afternoon tea. Later in the season, we went to "Aida" and "A Winter's Tale." A Halloween party was given by Lily Root, and at Christmas, Frieda Alexander and Veronica Aslanian together held a party at Frieda's home.

During some of our meetings, books and stories of all types were read and discussed. Among these were, "The Black Rose," and Dorothy Canfield Fisher's, "The Basque People." At each meeting we tried to choose something entirely different from our previous selections. In this way we were able to get a great amount of variety throughout the year.

We are confident that some of our enthusiastic undergraduates will carry on with the same spirit they have shown this year. We bequeath, to our oncoming members all the fun and interest that we have had, and that we hope will soon be theirs.

All our members join in thanking Miss Butler for her help and interest in making the club a success.

THE OUTING CLUB

Back Row: Kenneth Cobb, Charles Fosgate, Karin Enebuske, Kirk Taylor, Florence Kelley, William O'Brien, Florence Ridlon, Joseph De Feo.

Second Row: Margaret Downey, Mary Herlihy, Margaret Phelan, Lois Moran, Sylvia Hall, Alice Blue, Margaret Coleman, Lydia Spencer, Veronica Aslanian, Beverly Garfield, Jony Larson.

THE OUTING CLUB

During the past year, the Outing Club, under the guidance of Miss McCarthy, occupied itself with numerous activities. Chief among these were walks into the surrounding countryside where we studied the birds and the foliage. Several nature talks were given by members of the club, while at other times we visited the Audubon rooms in Boston and attended a lecture at the natural history museum.

In the winter many members of the club went to the folk dances, into Boston to a French restaurant and to see the Swiss film "Marie Louise." We have great plans for a Weenie Roast which will take place in May. We are grateful to Miss O'Connor for her help during Miss McCarthy's absence, and especially for her kindness in connection with the Spring Flower Show. Finally we wish to express our deep appreciation of Miss McCarthy's unbounded help and kindness.

DEBATING CLUB

DURRELL DEBATING SOCIETY

The Durrell Debating Society, during the past year has given to those interested in public speaking and argumentation an opportunity to take part in active debate.

At the meetings those who were best qualified for interscholastic debating were recognized by their aptitude for extemporaneous speaking and their readiness to express their viewpoints and convictions in open forum.

The national debate topic this year has been, resolved: "That every able bodied male citizen of the United States should have one year of full time military training before attaining the age of twenty-four." This topic has allowed for a great deal of research and useful information regarding the continuing of the draft and the post war plans of our boys graduating this year. The club members are anticipating the remainder of the season with round-table discussions as well as the annual Durrell Prize Debate.

Aside from the mental stimulus offered the members, the social side has not been forgotten. A weenie roast and picnic at Norumbega Park and a farewell party to our club president, who is graduating this year, will serve to culminate a very active and successful season.

A word of thanks to our officers who worked so diligently this year. They are:

President	Evèlyn Cherelli
Vice President	Roland Perkins
Secretary	Marie Lombard
Treasurer	Roberta Jackson

To Mr. Downey, our devoted headmaster who has always given encouragement in our many ventures, to Miss Lillian Hartigan, our kind friend and generous counsellor, and to Mrs. Margaret Murphy our able coach and sympathetic adviser, we express our heartfelt thanks.

CHESS CLUB

Standing: Harvey Steinberg, John Balko, John Aronson, William Ratner, Arthur Schartz, Eliot Epstein.

Seated: John Gifford, Roger Carwile, Lillian Marshall, Morrill Ordesky, Donald Murphy.

THE CHESS CLUB

The chess club, considering that it retained only two of last year's regular players, has done very well. Since none of the members are graduating, we are assured of a very good team for next year.

The club was fortunate in discovering two excellent players in the school, Elliot and Allen Epstein. Arthur Schatz, one of the players from last year's team, has contributed much to our team's success. Jack Aronson, the other member of last year's team, started very well and has been constantly doing better. Morrell Ordesky gave us our first victory in the Milton tournament.

Although the team hasn't had much success this year, it hopes to produce a champion team in 1947.

GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

The girls' varsity team consists of members from the various classes. Freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors combine as a squad to play with groups representing Arlington, Belmont, Somerville and Waltham.

The following is a list of this grand team:

Forwards

Lucille Grimm
Mable Grimm
Peggy Dinan
Mary Romanieka

Guards

Muriel Nevins
Mary Hildebrande
Anna McCusker
Claire Rodgers

Letters and numerals will be awarded to these girls before graduation, for their success and splendid teamwork.

On March 6th, in our gym, this varsity defeated our annual foe, Waltham, in a sternly contested game. The second varsity and the sophomore squad also played the corresponding teams from Waltham and both squads were victorious. The triple victory was one of the most outstanding events of the year.

Now, as the season draws to a close and we know the basketballs are stored away for another year, we cannot help but realize how much these past four years have meant to us. Our final request is the wish for the success of the future teams.

SENIOR GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Standing: Basilla Neilan, Janice Banks, Claire Rodgers, Muriel Nevins, Jean Masse, Miss Brown.

Seated: Margaret Dynan, Christine Kokinakis, Lucille Grimm, Mabel Grimm, Mary Hilderbrand.

SENIOR GIRLS' BASKETBALL

In our sophomore year, our team were winners of the much coveted, silver basketballs, again in our junior year, and once more this year they received the highly prized awards. Seniors responsible for the success of the 1946 team are:

Forwards

Janice Banks
 Peggy Dynan
 Yola Marcotte
 Lucille Grimm, Captain
 Mable Grimm
 Christine Kokinakis

Guards

Jeanne Masse
 Muriel Nevins
 Mary Hildebrande
 Claire Rodgers
 Basilla Neilan

Many inter-class games were played among the various classes. These games are always amusing and entertaining events.

The last game of the season will be the alumni game, in which our present team plays against girls who are graduates of former years. This game is always looked forward to as a happy reunion.

As freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors we enjoyed representing our class in the different contests. We leave school athletics with the fervent hope for the success of our sister teams, the classes of 1947, 1948 and 1949.

BASILLA NEILAN, '46.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

Seated: Roberta Wilie, Betty Joaquim, Peggy Dynan, Chris Kokinakis, Gertrude Sartan.

Standing: Miss Brown, Mary Romanieka, Irene Michewicz, Barbara Martin, Basilla Neillan, Janice Banks.

GIRLS' VARSITY SOFTBALL

Girls' softball has for the past four years, been one of the sports nearest our hearts. This sport has, each succeeding year incited a greater appreciation of good sportsmanship among us.

This year, as in the past, our traditional games will be played with: Arlington, Belmont, Medford, Somerville, and Waltham.

Thee first varsity consists of the following girls:

Pitcher	Peggy Dinan
Catcher	Gertrude Sartan
First Base	Betty Joaquim
Second Base	Barbara Martin
Third Base	Irene Mickiewicz
Short Stop	Mary Romanieka
Short Field	Mary Ann Francis
Left Field	Basilla Neilan
Center Field	Jennie Sinawski
Right Field	Janice Banks

The gym, the field, the shower room now remain as symbols to us of carefree days when our chief worry was "whether or not we would defeat the next team we played."

This June many seniors will be candidates for the Baseball team, girls who plan to take their last fling at High School Athletics.

It is our sincere hope, as we leave Cambridge High and Latin School, that the future years will find many more girls interested in athletics.

The Department of Physical Education has been very kind to us, and to them we owe a great debt of gratitude.

First Row: Murphy, Daurie, Lakis, Sordillo, Lang, Chaisow, Pope, Biddle.

The Cambridge Latin football team of 1945 had one of its unluckiest seasons in many a year, suffering eight lessons against one win.

The team got off on the wrong foot by dropping its first game of the season to an obstinate Milton eleven. Five more consecutive defeats followed suit; to B. C. High, Quincy, Rindge, Belmont, and Weymouth respectively. Latin finally broke into the winning column by dropping a colorful Milton High by a seven to six score in the seventh fray of the season. It was a nip and tuck affair all the way with Cusick and Cawley sharing top honors.

Despite the persistent losses, the inexperience and hard luck of the boys, and the lack of material, the whole team deserves nothing but the highest praise for the wonderful way in which it performed in every minute of play throughout the entire season. Although space will not allow us to enumerate the outstanding feats of the various games, the following boys, who were constantly in there pitching, along with the before mentioned, deserve a big hand: McGrath, Dourie, Lakis, Lang, Sordille, Biddle, Captain Lyons, Pope, Mazurek, and Coblyn.

It is with great anxiety that the team, almost all of whom will return next year, looks forward to a successful campaign, and no doubt, the 1946 results will be reciprocal of the previous season.

The lettermen for the year are: E. Daurie, S. Biddle, C. Pope, M. Lakis, R. Sordillo, T. Lyons, W. Cusick, L. McGrath, J. Cawley, C. Coblyn, J. Lang, W. Kokinakis, F. Murphy, V. Chiasson, W. Loggan, K. Lyons.

BASEBALL TEAM

Second Row: Mr. MacDonald, Athletic Director; Shelden Saltman, Leo Hamel, Ernest Siegfriedt, Paul Cleary, Ernest Anastas, John Donahue, Mr. Foley, Coach; Salvatore Sabantino, Joseph Fournier, James Curry, James F. Curry, Richard Freeman, Robert Boudreau, Mr. Fraser, Faculty Manager.

BASEBALL

Coach Sonny Foley's 1946 baseball team is shaping up pretty well, and rumor has it, that the Cantabs have a good chance of topping the Suburban League. The team includes eight veterans, these being Captain John Paredes, Bill Goldberg, Steve Biddle, Ray McCarron, George Costa, Earl Daurie, Jack Lee, Jim Linehan, and a host of rookies. Maneuvering about in the outfield, we have Bill Goldberg, John Paredes, and Jack Lee, three of the fastest boys on the squad. Behind the plate will be Jim Linehan, with Steve Biddle and Ray McCarron sharing the first base post. Operating at second is George Costa with Earl Daurie being the best possibility for the hot corner. Dick Rigarsio's strong arm and his experience as a player on the Post Legion during the summer make him the most likely to succeed in holding down the short field position. As yet it isn't definite who will handle the mound duties, but indications show the pitching will fall to either Costa or Paredes with Rigarsie and Daurie standing by in case they should falter. There are also a great many other candidates out, but in time their special talents will be uncovered, and it may be that one of these boys will replace the lettermen.

The lettermen were: J. Paredes, J. Linehan, E. Daurie, J. Lee, B. Goldberg, S. Biddle, R. McCarron, G. Costa.

WILLIAM KEKINAKIS.

HOCKEY

Third Row: O'Connor, J. Boudreau, Tassinane, Quinn, Kramer.

Second Row: Mr. Fraser, Faculty Manager; Mr. MacDonald, Athletic Director; Larson, McLaughlin, Cleary, Bayne, Mr. Culhane, Coach.

First Row: P. Boudreau, Lee, Linnehan, Rigarzio, Costa, Burke, Daurie, Donahue, Brennan.

HOCKEY

The Hockey Team this year, after pulling off a few very unexpected upsets, and also being edged out of a few close thrillers, finally finished up the season in fourth place. The Cantabs, being built around Captain George Costa, Latin's stellar center, had a good fighting heart, speed, weight, and a good coach, Coach Culhane. The boys consistently played a hard, clean, aggressive, game, which accounted for the low scores.

Here's the way the team had been lining up in battle array for almost the entire season. Starting at defence was Jack Lee and lanky Earl Daurie. (Earl also represented Cambridge Latin on the All-Star second team.) George Costa, whose brilliant solos highlighted most of the scoring, and who also played as defenseman on the All-Star first squad, did the facing off, with Jim Linehan and Derian Burke dividing up the forward positions. Ray McCarren, who filled in very nicely the spot left vacant by last year's goalie, Ray Redlight Foley, proved his worth in tending the nets. Jack Donahue and Dick Rigarsio, both of whom are veterans of last year's campaign, shone as substitutes for the first line, with Paul Boudreau having his share in the puck lobbing. These three boys will serve as Latin's forward action for the next season.

Lettermen: G. Costa, J. Linehan, R. McCarren, J. Lee, D. Burke, E. Daurie, R. Rigarsie, J. Donohue, P. Boudreau, L. Brennan, C. Tassinari, P. Quinn, R. Mix, G. McLaughlin, P. Cleary, J. Cabral.

BASKETBALL

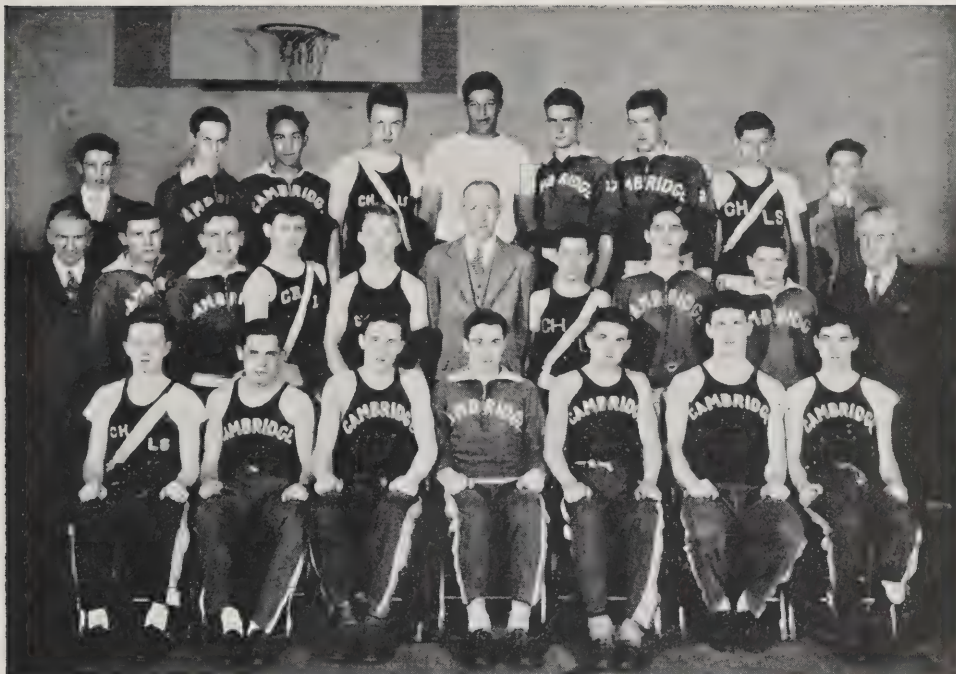

Third Row: Saltman, McKenna, Cosgrove, Woodworth, Lee, Sabatino, Murphy, Wood.
Second Row: Mr. Fraser, Faculty Manager; Mr. MacDonald, Athletic Director; Sugarman, Coryie, Kelley, Daurie, Szulewski, Landers, Hogan, Dawseroux, Mr. Kozlowsky, Coach.
First Row: Cawley, Lewis, Dunakis, Polaro, Paredes, Curnane, Francisconi, Lyons, Healy.

BASKETBALL

The basketball team of Cambridge High and Latin with only one first string letterman, Captain John Paredes, back, managed to turn out a mediocre five. The team didn't attain state wide prominence, but every boy on the squad with a good hustler, and had the co-ordination and skill requisite of a good player.

The season opened up in grand style, with the Watchmakers from Waltham winning a decisive victory over Latin. The deception and speed of the visitors was too much for our boys to contend with. In a stunning upset, the Cantabs came from behind in the second game of the campaign, to triumph over a powerful Arlington High. A win and a loss were then added to the list of scores, with the annual rivalry game with Rindge just around the corner. Before a jam-packed crowd of enthusiastic followers in the Lassman Gymnasium, the Latin quintet managed to eke out a win over the Technicians in one of the fastest and most exciting games of the year. Our squad, at first, was highly favored, but after the first few minutes of play, all present realized that the winning team would win by only a slight margin. Along with Paredes on the first line were Palaro, Kelley, Agnetta, and Curnane. The first team was aided by such capable substitutes as Cawley, Darakis, Lyons, and Daurie.

Lettermen: Captain J. Paredes, R. Curnane, J. Kelly, J. Cawley, C. Durakis, G. Palare, A. Francisconi, H. Lewis, P. McKenna, A. Agnetta, E. Lyons, J. Lee, E. Daurie, J. Healy, F. Murphy.

TRACK

The track team which reported to Mr. Murphy for the out-door running season, fares pretty well for the forthcoming Out-door State Meet in May. On the boards during the indoor season, the Can Tabs scored two victories in dual meets over St. Marys of Waltham and Melrose High, against one defeat to its traditional rival Rindge Tech. The boys took third in both the Indoor State Meet and the "Y" games.

Captain Bill Goldberg is the outstanding performer of the team, but many dubious spectators were a little more skeptical when twin brother Bernie literally walked away with a forty-five yard low hurdles in a recent State Meet. Along the shot-put lines, we have Basil Bourque and James Lang who can broad jump just as well as he can throw the shot. Retaining the honors for the distance, is relayman Dick Harrington, with Jack Kaufman doing well in the high-jumping department. Other boys who will bear watching are Dick Barbara and Fred Hiscock. Add these many factors together, and you will have a pretty good idea why this team is confident of another championship. Incidentally, the Latinites are the defending State Champions.

Lettermen for the past campaign were: William Goldberg, Bernard Goldberg, James Lang, William Kokinakis, Richard Harrington, John Kaufman, Richard Barbara and Basil Bourque.

Class Will

In this year of Our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-six, we, the undersigned, being of poor health and unsound mind because of excess study, do hereby bequeath the following according to the laws of the state, and the censorship of the Faculty:

(1) To our teachers, who conscientiously, but futilely tried to instill knowledge into our foggy and befuddled minds, our heartfelt sympathy and gratitude.

(2) To those who will begin anew next year as seniors, and pretend to be P. G.'s our understanding, and diligence.

(3) To the ambitious juniors, an extra flight of stairs to climb most appreciated early Monday mornings.

(4) To the French Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Ford, our most sincere hope that you will continue in your kindness and generosity to the unfortunate orphans of France.

(5) To Miss Ruggli, a box of shiny new test tubes in place of the many that were destroyed by our carelessness.

(6) To the sophomores, the novelty and excitement of campaigning for class officers, and committees in their Junior year.

(7) To Mr. Dudley, a brand new "Stetson."

CAMBRIDGE HIGH & LATIN SCHOOL

(8) To the long-suffering and ever hopeful girls, many sophisticated veterans who we hope will contribute toward easing the man-shortage in C. H. L. S.

(9) To Mr. Sullivan, an unending supply of Wildroot Cream Oil Hair Tonic.

(10) To the freshmen, the thrill of their first formal, the renowned G. A. A.

(11) To Miss Butler, our sincere hope that in the Class of '47, there will be many illustrious poets, and talented song writers.

(12) To Mr. Bramhall, a private office to take the place of the Grand Central Station he runs.

(13) To our understanding, and gracious Miss McElroy, a vote of thanks for all your helpful advice, given so profusely, and all the grand times afforded us.

In witness whereof, we, the undersigned, do hereby declare this document to be our last Will and Testament in this year of Our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-six.

Epilogue

As we come to the end of our high school years and complete another phase in our lives, our progress develops like a series of stations one leading on to the next. In the past four years we have sped through many happy and valuable experiences. We are grateful to our teachers and the many people who have contributed to our preparation for the next stop in life. We are taking with us the knowledge and the principles which they have taught. Our travels through life will follow diverse routes, but let us hope that our progress will lead us all toward the Ultimate Goal.
